SECTION A- READING

(20 Marks)

Q-1 Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow.

(10 marks)

1. My grandma taught me everything about Christmas. I was just a kid. I remember tearing across town on my bike to visit her on the day my big sister dropped the bomb: "There is no Santa Claus," jeered my sister. "Even dummies know that!"
2. My grandma was not the gushy kind, never had been. I fled to her that day because I knew she would be straight with me. I knew Grandma always told the truth, and I knew that the truth always went down a whole lot easier when swallowed with one of her world-famous cinnamon buns.
3. Grandma was home, and the buns were still warm. Between bites, I told her everything. She was ready for me.
4. "No Santa Claus!" she snorted. "Ridiculous! Don't believe it. That rumor has been going around for years, and it makes me mad, plain mad. Now, put on your coat, and let's go."
5. "Go? Go where, Grandma?" I asked. I hadn't even finished my second cinnamon bun.

6. "Where" turned out to be Kerby's General Store, the one store in town that had a little bit of just about everything. As we walked through its doors, Grandma handed me ten dollars. That was a bundle in those days.
7. "Take this money," she said, "and buy something for someone who needs it. I'll wait for you in the car." Then she turned and walked out of Kerby's.
8. I was only eight years old. I'd often gone shopping with my mother, but never had I shopped for anything all by myself. The store seemed big and crowded, full of people scrambling to finish their Christmas shopping. For a few moments I just stood there, confused, clutching that ten-dollar bill, wondering what to buy, and who on earth to buy it for. I thought of everybody I knew: my family, my friends, my neighbors, the kids at school, the people who went to my church.
9. I was just about thought out, when I suddenly thought of Bobbie Decker. He was a kid with bad breath and messy hair, and he sat right behind me in Mrs. Pollock's grade-two class. Bobbie Decker didn't have a coat. I knew that because he never went out for recess during the winter. His mother always wrote a note, telling the teacher that he had a cough; but all we kids knew that Bobbie Decker didn't have a cough, and he didn't have a coat.
10. I fingered the ten-dollar bill with growing excitement. I would buy Bobbie Decker a coat. I settled on a red corduroy one that had a hood to it. It looked real warm, and he would like that. I didn't see a price tag, but ten dollars ought to buy anything. I put the coat and my ten-dollar bill on the counter and pushed them toward the lady behind it.
11. She looked at the coat, the money, and me. "Is this a Christmas present for someone?" she asked kindly. "Yes," I replied shyly. "It's ... for Bobbie. He's in my class, and he doesn't have a coat." The nice lady smiled at me. I didn't get any change, but she put the coat in a bag and wished me a Merry Christmas.
12. That evening, Grandma helped me wrap the coat in Christmas paper and ribbons, and write, "To Bobbie, From Santa Claus" on it ... Grandma said that Santa always insisted on secrecy.

Q-2 Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow. (10 marks)

1. On the first day of school, August is terrified. He has stuck to his decision, but his parents have continued to argue about it. At some point, his mom and his dad switched sides. Dad says that if August can handle kids like Julian, then he is ready to go to school. But Mom seems less sure now.
2. Beecher Prep is not far from August's house, but he has rarely walked past the place. He normally avoids streets where lots of kids hang out. Instead, he spends most of his time on his own block, where people know him and are used to him. He has lived in the same place his whole life, so he feels strange going to an unfamiliar place so close to home.
3. August's whole family walks him to school. Via stays beside him, and his parents walk behind. When they arrive and August sees hundreds of kids milling around outside the school, he is careful to keep his face turned "way down" so they will not notice him. Before August goes inside, Via whispers to him that everybody is nervous on the first day, so he is not alone. She hugs him goodbye, as do his mom and dad. August realizes that Mom is going to cry and embarrass him, so he turns and runs into the school.
4. Now August is glad he had a tour. He is able to walk directly to his homeroom, Room 301, with his face aimed "way down" so he does not have to look at anyone. In the classroom, he takes a seat near the back, where he figures fewer people will have an opportunity to stare.
5. Charlotte and Julian both come into the room soon after August. Charlotte waves hello before she chooses a seat in the front. Julian does not acknowledge August at all. August watches as the room fills up, and for a long time, nobody chooses a desk next to his. When Jack Will arrives, he says hello and takes an empty seat next to August. The seat on August's other side remains empty. Meanwhile, two kids squeeze into one desk elsewhere.
